International Conference on INNOVATION AND ADVANCES IN CHEMICAL SCIENCES

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Department of Chemistry, Cotton University, Guwahati, will organize an International Conference on Innovation and Advances in Chemical Sciences (IACS - 2025) from 24th to 25th January, 2025. The conference aims to bring together the eminent scientists, technologists, and young and budding researchers from across the country to provide a single platform for deliberations and discussion on recent advances in chemical sciences and newer directions of research. It will cover all areas of chemistry and its interfaces with materials science, biology and nano technology. The proceedings of the conference will consist of plenary and keynote addresses, invited talks, and oral and poster presentations. We invite all experts, researchers, and students working in the broad area of chemistry to participate.
