CAREERS AND PROFILES

Clinical Research + Resume and LinkedIn essentials

Anamika brings a wealth of experience from the Clinical Research industry, having held diverse roles across Clinical Operations and Project Management. She has contributed to global drug and medical device trials in therapeutic areas such as oncology, dermatology, orthopaedics, cardiology, and COVID-19 vaccine studies. Her recent MBA in Strategy from Aston University, UK, further complements her strategic approach to career development in clinical research.

Mridusmita, a certified HR fieneralist by the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM), currently serves as Senior Executive – Human Resources at Integra Ventures. She oversees HR operations across multiple national (fiuwahati, Delhi, Bangalore, Kolkata) and international (Nairobi, Tashkent) offices. With extensive experience in talent acquisition—especially within the healthcare management sector—she brings deep insight into what recruiters look for and how professionals can position themselves effectively. Her background includes working with companies ranging from startups to large-scale organizations in both India and the USA.

Together, Anamika and Mridusmita bring complementary perspectives from clinical research and human resources that will help you navigate your next career move with confidence.
